

Points are three training-seed sensitivity runs per robot on one locked test set per robot; seeds are not independent test datasets.